Folks, we ask that you email your photos to editor@worldwidewoodturners.org because Facebook strips data in order to facilitate faster loading. Those images are not compatible with print format for the newsletter once that data has been stripped. You can .zip your image files - that works. If you do not receive confirmation from me of your email within 24 hours, please message Wah-tie Woodturning on Facebook and let me know we're having communication issues. outlook occasionally filters out other countries, and that isn't resolved until I email you from the Editor account.
