I gave a hands-on workshop last weekend, and the guy's shop it was held in is cleaner than this fellows. He takes breaks while creating a piece to shop-vac everything. I wish I was that organized.

Matt, not really. It was a pleasure turning in a shop that organized, and clean. My host is 75, and you would think he's 55. I'll be going through my shop during the coming week in hopes of getting it back to the way it was when I was younger. I've gotten too lazy about taking care of my shop.
