16:04:30 From Gerald Jensen:
Replying to "How much for native ..."

Native American fishing license fees in Wisconsin are not uniform and depend on tribal affiliation; for example, the Oneida Nation offers a license for $10 for enrolled members, while the Stockbridge-Munsee charges $30 for adult direct descendants of members, and the Brothertown Indian Nation charges $10 for enrolled members, with an additional fee for non-enrolled tribal members. Some tribes also offer free licenses for elders or have different fee structures for spouses or descendants.
