The Monthly Newsletter of WorldWideWoodturners.org

May 2023

From the Home Office:

The photographs shown in this newsletter were provided to Worldwidewoodturners by our members. We don't have restrictions, limitations, or rules. You don't have to be anybody other than, in your heart, the World's Greatest Turner. We will never critique your work, or speak ill of what you have created. Your work comes from your lathe, hands and heart. Please send us photos of your work for inclusion in this publication. And also, feel free to share this with the entire world. (Photos placed on WorldWidewoodturners' facebook page will always be included)

- Please pardon any errors in names of turners. We do our best in giving credit to the artists.

Get Stuck!

We have just received the first printing of the WorldWideWoodturners' tool box, lathe, window and door stickers.

The beauties are about 3" in diameter, printed on a glossed surface and ready for your shop.

Simple deal - 10 stickers, mailed to you in an envelope, for $5.00. This includes postage.

Check the front page of www.worldwidewoodturners.org for more details.

Ring - Ding - Ding

A little help when you need it? A member, Brent, explained a situation which occurred recently which most of us can relate to.

Brent took a fall outside his home, but not in the shop. He was injured and could not rise on his own. Getting the attention of the family was not an easy task.

The original plan was for him to carry his cell phone when out and about. Apparently that didn't work, a second plan would probably work better.

He procured a wireless doorbell from Amazon, all powered by batteries. The receiver would be in the home near his family. The transmitter could be either carried on his person, or mounted in his shop. (the unit I just ordered has several transmitters)

When in need, help is just the press of a button away.

I found mine for less than $20.00 and is a worthy addition to my shop.
